

MoreArt celebrates our city's unique urban character and gives artists and the community a chance to re-imagine the place they live in.

MoreArt is a temporary public art event that's designed to respond to Moreland's urban landscape and its distinct cosmopolitan character. The show taps into contemporary trends and challenges artists to capture an audience using unique public spaces.

The success of last year's show has witnessed increased support for public art in Moreland with this year's partners including Department of Transport, Metro, VicTrack and RMIT Link Arts. With this added support, MoreArt 2011 will see fabulous new prizes being awarded to the best works submitted by artists who have responded creatively to a variety of sites that are spotted along the Upfield rail and bicycle precinct. Vacant customer service spaces, public land and private property have all been made available to the successful shortlisted artists.

Moreland City Council is proud to support such an innovative event.

Stretch your legs, catch a train or ride a bike and discover the secrets of MoreArt. Tours can be booked throughout October.

MAKING IT IN MORELAND

Saturday 29 October, 11.00 am

Find out how some of Melbourne's most established, diverse and iconic arts studios are thriving in Moreland. How did they get started, what were the requirements from Council, how did they navigate Council, and what challenges did they face? Engage in a lively discussion with studio managers, hosted by Art Aficionado Tours.

This is a follow up event to Made in Brunswick - balancing art and buildings in response to a need for more accessible information to be available to artists regarding requirements for setting up a studio in Moreland.
